

i-CON VARIO 2 MK2 with i-TOOL MK2 and X-TOOL VARIO

i-CON VARIO 2 MK2

Multichannel soldering and desoldering station

The multichannel soldering and desoldering station i-CON VARIO MK2 provides the professional user with two soldering tools that can be used simultaneously.

All functions, including the generation of the air and the vacuum required in the process are bundled in the supply unit, which is equipped with the easy to operate i-OP and its clearly arranged display. In addition, the soldering stations have interfaces for the Ersa solder fume extraction units or infrared heating plates, as well as an USB port. Via a micro-SD card, the stations can be quickly and safely configured. Therefore, they are optimally prepared for all applications in professional electronics manufacturing – including ESD protected zones.

The high-performance bushing A2 can be used to operate either the i-TOOL AIR S (200 W) or the i-TOOL HP (250 W). The station without the pumps is for users that want to use exclusively the i-TOOL HP and the i-TOOL.
